GoCityKids

January 24, 2008

Cat Cora, the Food Network's first and only female Iron Chef America, demonstrates how families can use imaginative food preparation to create delicious, nutritious, and healthy pinwheel sandwiches, watermelon gazpacho, and fruit parfaits. The workshop is the first in an ongoing series of events taking place at the museum through summer developed by Cora's organization, Chefs for Humanity, and CMOM. Tickets are distributed beginning at 12:30pm at the Visitor Information Desk on the day of workshop. Space is limited. [212.721.1234; <http://www.cmom.org>; <http://www.catcoracooks.com>]
